

Professor Jonathan Cole

Consultant in clinical neurophysiology

MA, MSc, DM (Oxon), FRCP

Areas of specialist interest

Peripheral neurophysiology (nerve conduction and EMG), EEG in epilepsysurgery.

About Professor Cole

After medical school, (Oxford and The Middlesex Hospital), Professor Cole researched in Oxford before training in clinical neurophysiology in Southampton. He was appointed to Poole Hospital in 1990 and has developed the department to provide a comprehensive set of investigations.

Academically he has 100 papers, six books and 150 invited lectures. Past president of the British Society for Clinical Neurophysiology, he was also chair of the 2006 International Congress in clinical neurophysiology.

Professor Cole is at present clinical director for medicine and visiting professor at Bournemouth University in CoPMRE and DEC/psychology.